

Please join us for the 2018 Quest KACE UserKon, a gathering of ~200 KACE customers from around the world to be held May 14-18 in New Orleans, Louisiana, USA. Information about online registration and the conference, its events, travel, and local accommodations can be found on our registration site: quest.com/kace-userkon.

You'll have the opportunity to garner knowledge from dozens of presentations from KACE experts, partners and users, and you'll have many networking opportunities with other KACE users from around the globe. The Quest KACE UserKon will include technical breakout sessions, systems management and product Q&As, and a hands-on geek bar.

Registration closes to all applicants on May 14 unless the registration limit had already been reached. We encourage you to submit your registration application as soon as registration opens. To access the registration form directly, visit: quest.com/kace-userkon.

This invitation does not imply a guarantee of acceptance or any financial assistance to ensure your presence. All invitees must plan to attend at their own expense. We advise you to contact the appropriate government authorities and the embassy or consulate in your country to facilitate all travel and visa requirements.

We look forward to seeing you in New Orleans.

Sincerely,

Efrain Viscarolasaga
KACE Product Marketing manager
