One Identity Safeguard for Privileged Sessions, you can control, monitor and record privileged sessions of administrators, remote vendors and other high-risk users. The content of the recorded sessions is indexed to make searching for events simple and also helps automate reporting so you can easily meet your auditing and compliance requirements. Safeguard for Privileged Sessions also serves as a proxy inspecting the protocol traffic on the application level. This makes an effective shield against attacks by rejecting all traffic that violates the protocol. Sessions Appliance Family	5A002	A
With the syslogng Store Box, you can collect and index log data, perform complex searches, secure sensitive information with granular access policies, generate reports to demonstrate compliance, and forward log data to 3rd party analysis tools. syslogng Appliance Family	5A002	A
